Name: _____ Date: _____

The zero conditional

Grammar worksheet · Ficha de gramática inglesa: el zero conditional (if con present simple en las dos partes)

Remember!

	If clause	Main clause
Affirmative	If you heat ice,	it melts.
Negative	If plants don't get light,	they die.
He, she, it	If my dog sees a cat,	it barks.
Question	What happens	if you mix oil and water?

- If + present simple, present simple: for things that are always true (science, rules and habits).
- if = when here: If / When I am cold, I wear a hat.
- Instructions: If you feel sick, tell the teacher. · Don't forget the -s: it melts, she cries.

1 Circle the correct option.

Rodean la forma correcta del present simple: la -s, don't o doesn't y el verbo sin -ing.

1. If you (mixes / mixed / mix) red and yellow paint, you get orange.
2. If you mix oil and water, the oil (floated / floats / float).
3. If the baby (doesn't / don't / isn't) sleep, nobody sleeps.
4. If plants (didn't / don't / doesn't) get water, they die.
5. If people (ate / eats / eat) too much sugar, their teeth suffer.

2 Match the two halves of each sentence.

Unen cada condición con el resultado que siempre la sigue: solo hay una pareja posible para cada una.

1. If my baby brother is hungry,	●	● a)	you feel tired the next day.
2. If the sky is clear at night,	●	● b)	he cries.
3. If you heat popcorn kernels,	●	● c)	it expands.
4. If you don't sleep enough,	●	● d)	you can see the stars.
5. If you heat metal,	●	● e)	they pop.

3 Complete with the present simple of the verbs in brackets.

Escriben los dos verbos en present simple: afirmativa, negativa con don't o doesn't, y la -s de la tercera persona.

1. If the ball _____ (go) out, the other team _____ (throw) it in.
2. If a phone _____ (ring) in class, the teacher _____ (take) it away.
3. If you _____ (boil) pasta for too long, it _____ (get) soft.
4. If we _____ (finish) our work early, the teacher _____ (let) us read.
5. If it _____ (not rain) for months, the reservoirs _____ (dry) up.

4 Join the two sentences with if. Start with If.

Escriben una sola frase con if: la primera es la condición y la segunda, el resultado (con coma detrás de la condición).

Example: You heat ice. It melts. → If you heat ice, it melts.

1. The temperature goes down. The pond freezes.

   → _____

2. You don't close the door. The cat escapes.

   → _____

3. You put paper in the fire. It burns.

   → _____

4. I eat too fast. I feel sick.

   → _____

5. Lucía is bored. She draws in her notebook.

   → _____

5 Correct the mistakes.

Cada frase tiene un error típico del present simple o del orden. La escriben bien en la línea.

1. If you press this button, the door open.

   → _____

2. If the baby is hungry, she cry.

   → _____

3. If it don't rain, the plants die.

   → _____

4. If it rain a lot, the streets flood.

   → _____

5. If water reach 0 °C, it freezes.

   → _____

6 Write about your habits and about things that are always true.

Escriben frases verdaderas sobre sus costumbres y sobre hechos que siempre se cumplen, con el present simple en las dos partes.

If I am hungry after school, I _____

If it rains at the weekend, I _____

If my friends _____ , I

If you mix _____ , you get

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

The zero conditional · Answer key

Soluciones · Grammar worksheet · Ficha de gramática inglesa: el zero conditional (if con present simple en las dos partes)

Remember!

	If clause	Main clause
Affirmative	If you heat ice,	it melts.
Negative	If plants don't get light,	they die.
He, she, it	If my dog sees a cat,	it barks.
Question	What happens	if you mix oil and water?

- If + present simple, present simple: for things that are always true (science, rules and habits).
- if = when here: If / When I am cold, I wear a hat.
- Instructions: If you feel sick, tell the teacher. · Don't forget the -s: it melts, she cries.

1 Circle the correct option.

Rodean la forma correcta del present simple: la -s, don't o doesn't y el verbo sin -ing.

1. If you (mixes / mixed / mix) red and yellow paint, you get orange.
2. If you mix oil and water, the oil (floated / floats / float).
3. If the baby (doesn't / don't / isn't) sleep, nobody sleeps.
4. If plants (didn't / don't / doesn't) get water, they die.
5. If people (ate / eats / eat) too much sugar, their teeth suffer.

2 Match the two halves of each sentence.

Unen cada condición con el resultado que siempre la sigue: solo hay una pareja posible para cada una.

1. If my baby brother is hungry,	a) you feel tired the next day.
2. If the sky is clear at night,	b) he cries.
3. If you heat popcorn kernels,	c) it expands.
4. If you don't sleep enough,	d) you can see the stars.
5. If you heat metal,	e) they pop.

3 Complete with the present simple of the verbs in brackets.

Escriben los dos verbos en present simple: afirmativa, negativa con don't o doesn't, y la -s de la tercera persona.

1. If the ball goes (go) out, the other team throws (throw) it in.
2. If a phone rings (ring) in class, the teacher takes (take) it away.
3. If you boil (boil) pasta for too long, it gets (get) soft.
4. If we finish (finish) our work early, the teacher lets (let) us read.
5. If it doesn't rain (not rain) for months, the reservoirs dry (dry) up.

4 Join the two sentences with if. Start with If.

Escriben una sola frase con if: la primera es la condición y la segunda, el resultado (con coma detrás de la condición).

Example: You heat ice. It melts. → If you heat ice, it melts.

1. The temperature goes down. The pond freezes.

   → If the temperature goes down, the pond freezes.

2. You don't close the door. The cat escapes.

   → If you don't close the door, the cat escapes.

3. You put paper in the fire. It burns.

   → If you put paper in the fire, it burns.

4. I eat too fast. I feel sick.

   → If I eat too fast, I feel sick.

5. Lucía is bored. She draws in her notebook.

   → If Lucía is bored, she draws in her notebook.

5 Correct the mistakes.

Cada frase tiene un error típico del present simple o del orden. La escriben bien en la línea.

1. If you press this button, the door open.
   → If you press this button, the door opens.
2. If the baby is hungry, she cry.
   → If the baby is hungry, she cries.
3. If it don't rain, the plants die.
   → If it doesn't rain, the plants die.
4. If it rain a lot, the streets flood.
   → If it rains a lot, the streets flood.
5. If water reach 0 °C, it freezes.
   → If water reaches 0 °C, it freezes.

6 Write about your habits and about things that are always true.

Escriben frases verdaderas sobre sus costumbres y sobre hechos que siempre se cumplen, con el present simple en las dos partes.

Respuesta libre. Ejemplo: If I am hungry after school, I have a sandwich. If it rains at the weekend, I watch series at home. If my friends are sad, I try to make them laugh. If you mix blue and white, you get light blue.